SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 17 1862

"Who are the Traitors?"

The Advertiser asks this question, and then goes on, in its own way, in misrepresenting the history of events antecedent to the rebellion, and says

"At the last Presidential campaign there were four parties" "That (the republican) party succeeded in electing the President by a plurality vote Immediately after the result was known, certain States deemed the triumph of that party, solemnly pledged to abridge them of their Constitutional right in the Territories, as a sufficient ground for a withdrawal from the Union, formal State action was taken, patriots and statesmen feared for the worst, they proposed to compromise as our fathers had done"

The Advertiser gives these as the causes for the inauguration of this rebellion. Let us look at them

It tells the reader that the republican party succeeded in electing their candidate, as Mr Buchanan was elected, by a plurality vote This is true Then it says that the republican party was pledged to deprive the South of Constitutional rights in the Territories This is not true From the very organization of Government Congress was recognized as having the control of slavery in the Territories, and had exercised that control, and with the approbation of the South It is then stated that certain States withdrew from the Union on account of the success of the republican party This is not true The politicians of those States broke up the Democratic Convention with the design of effecting the election of a republican President, and intended to make that the occasion for breaking up the Government not the cause, but the occasion—for members of Mr Buchanan's Cabinet had for sometime previous been engaged in sending arms to the South to be used in rebellion, and sent the naval force out of the country to distant positions so that it could not interfere with the intended rebellion These are facts from history Mr Crittenden and others, supposing that they could arrest the movements of treason, offered compromises—unacceptable to the South as well as the North The South asked for no compromises—desired none—and its prominent members of the Senate would vote for none. While Congress was talking about compromises, rebels were seizing our forts public arms, mints, and were pulling down and insulting the American flag. These facts are from history

Mr. Crittenden and Mr. Douglas both sought to effect compromises, and both came to the conclusion that there was no way to secure peace but to crush out the rebellion Mr Crittenden shouldered his musket to make war upon the traitors who sought to force Kentucky into rebellion Mr Douglas is dead—but he yet speaketh He said in one of his last speeches, in which he sought to arouse the patriotism of his constituents

"I have not only tendered those States (the seceded ones) what was theirs of right but I have gone to the very extreme of magnanimity. The return we receive is war, armies marched upon our capital, obstructions and dangers to our navigation. letters of marque to invite pirates to prey upon our commerce a concerted movement to blot out the United States of America from the map of the globe The question is, are we to sustain the country of our fathers, or allow it to be stricken down by those who, when they can no longer govern, threaten to destroy?" "There can be no neutrals in this war; only patriots or traitors." "Thank God, Illinois is not divided on this question" "I express it as my conviction before God, that it is the duty of every American citizen to rally round the flag of his country"

Thus spoke Mr Douglas near the hour when he left the theatre of earthly glory for one we trust more ineffable He had no more compromises to offer Mr Crittenden now in the House of Representatives, aware of the folly of offering compromises to the South, introduced into the House a resolution which passed by an almost unanimous vote that the war should be prosecuted until the authority of the Government was established in every part of the land That was the end of Mr Crittenden's efforts for compromise

The rebellion did not grow out of the election of the Republican President Had it done so, it would not have been the less objectionable or criminal Do our institutions sit so lightly upon us, that at every election a defeated party is justified in making war upon the Constitutional authorities—inaugurate revolutions—raise hordes of mercenaries and go on with the work of plunder, murder and destruction as we have witnessed in the present rebellion? Whenever a political party is defeated at an election is that a cause for riot, robbery and rebellion? If so, the sooner we set up a despot and give him all power over life and property, the better for the American people

That day we trust is far distant. The end of this war will show the sanctity of elections and the permanency of our institutions

The Advertiser asks, "WHO ARE THE TRAITORS?" We answer they are those who countenance treason—who sympathise with traitors—who rejoice in their success and hang their heads in their defeats and who will express themselves to the effect, that they have more hope in the success of the rebels now than after the conquest of Sumter" CAN ANY MAN DOUBT THAT SUCH ARE TRAITORS?

LATER FROM THE EAST.

FORT MONROE, May 7th —The rebels burnt their gunboats in York river yesterday morning We have taken many prisoners in small companies but cannot learn of any large bodies having been captured

Two companies of the Eighth Illinois Cavalry are reported to have been captured by the enemy

General McClellan was struck by a fragment of shell but not injured.

The roads are in bad condition which greatly impedes our advance

BALTIMORE, May 8th —The following is from the American's accounts of the battle of Williamsburg,

"The battle of Monday was a most warmly contested engagement Owing to the roughness of the country and the bad condition of the roads but a small portion of our troops could be brought into action General Sickles Brigade, of General Hooker's Division, bore the brunt of the battle, and fought most valiantly throughout, though greatly outnumbered by the enemy, who also had a superior position The approaches to their earthworks were through ravines and swamps while the rain fell in torrents through out the day The men had also been lying on their arms all the previous night and were soaked with rain and chilled with cold The battle raged from early in the morning until three o'clock p m when McClellan arrived with fresh troops and relieved Hooker's division, who were nearly prostrate from fatigue The Third Regiment of Sickles Brigade had their ranks terribly thinned by the enemy's batteries They are represented to have fought with such bravery that not less than two hundred of them were killed or wounded After the arrival of McClellan the enemy were fiercely charged on by Hancock's Brigade and were driven within their works before nightfall—nearly seven hundred of their dead being left on the field, with many wounded though most of the latter were carried into Williamsburg Our loss was nearly three hundred killed and seven hundred wounded Night having come on our forces lay on their arms on the battle field, prepared to storm the works in the morning

"On Tuesday morning McClellan sent out scouts, whilst preparing to move on the enemy's works The scouts soon returned and reported that the rebels had again taken flight during the night, and their works and Williamsburg were then occupied by the national troops Fort Magruder was a most extensive work, capable of a prolonged defense The enemy were reported, by the few negroes and women found in the town, to have fled in great confusion Large numbers of wagons and munitions and a considerable store of provisions were found in the town The road in the vicinity was strewn with arms and accoutrements A number of deserters also made their escape and came within our lines, who stated that they had intelligence of a large number of Federal troops landing on the shore of York river above Williamsburg, to flank them

WASHINGTON, May 8 —Several Democratic Members of Congress have issued an address to the people of the United States setting forth that the party organization is a positive good, and essential to the preservation of the public liberty This, they say, is a vital necessity They invite men without distinction of section State or party, who are for the Constitution as it is, and the Union as it was, to unite with them in the great work of preserving both upon terms of perfect equality

CAIRO, May 8 —The headquarters of Generals Halleck and Grant are now located at Monterey, Tennessee A number of Hospital boats are stationed at Pittsburg Landing from different States, for the purpose of receiving and caring for the sick and wounded of their particular States

WASHINGTON, May 8 —The Navy Department has received dispatches from Commodore Dupont at Port Royal, dated May 3d On the 29th of April the gunboat Hale went on an expedition to capture a rebel battery near the junction of the Dawho, Pawpaw and South Edisto rivers The enemy opened fire on the Hale when within 1,800 yards, and continued it as she wound her way to attack at close quarters. When the Hale reached the east bend of the river, within a short distance of the battery, the rebels fled in haste. A party landed and destroyed the work The Hale returned without having a man injured

A dispatch from the headquarters of the Mountain Department says our advance, under Gen Cox, occupied Giles Court house, [Southwest Virginia] on New river, yesterday A quantity of commissary stores and some prisoners were taken. The citizens seem loyal

CHICAGO May 8 —The New York Times in connection with the statement as to the cause of the visit of the French Minister to Richmond, telegraphed two days since says that when Mercier returned, he was borne to Washington on the French war vessel Gassendi. The President and Secretary Seward received him at the Navy Yard, and when the President stepped on deck he was welcomed by a salute equal in honor to that accorded to the Emperor

FORTRESS MONROE, May 8 —The iron clad vessel Galena and the gunboats Port Royal and Aroostook, started up the James river this morning Heavy firing had been heard up the river since their departure They will cut off the steam communication of the rebels south of the Chickahominy

The rebel tug J B White with a crew from Norfolk, ran over to Newport News to day and surrendered

Sewall's Point is being evacuated The Monitor and several gunboats have left for that port

LOUISVILLE, May 8 —Two thoroughly reliable Kentucky gentlemen just arrived from New Orleans, report that all along the Mississippi, from Memphis to New Orleans, there was one general bonfire of property particularly cotton of which from eleven to twelve thousand bales were burned The New Orleans people, and those of the river towns, were all retreating inland, destroying property along all the tributaries of the Mississippi, the planters, in many cases applying the torch to their own property Among a great number of planters but one was found who objected to burning his cotton

CHICAGO May 8 —The Norfolk Day Book of the 3d says It is reported at Atlanta Georgia that part of Mitchell's forces were advancing from Gunter's Landing on Rome Georgia At this place the rebels have extensive saltpetre works and manufactories of arms

A special dispatch to the Petersburg Express dated Knoxville May 2d, says the enemy attacked Cumberland Gap in large numbers at noon yesterday They were gallantly repulsed three times In the last attack they charged up to the breastworks The enemy's loss is 1[illegible]0 killed and 400 wounded Our loss is seventeen killed and thirty wounded The last repulse was effectual, and the Yankees retired

The same paper states that an engagement occurred at Cumberland Gap on 28th of April The Federals were repulsed with considerable loss They have been reinforced by eight regiments, and have completed a floating bridge across the Cumberland river It is believed that they will attempt to make a flank movement, for which the Confederates are fully prepared

In regard to the visit of the French Minister to Richmond the same paper says "His object was to learn from a personal interview what were the prospects of the Confederates for achieving and maintaining their independence The result of the Minister's inquiries had not transpired But we are informed that he appeared to be highly satisfied with what he saw and heard

WASHINGTON, May 8th —Specials to the New York papers state that General McDowell is organizing fugitive blacks into companies under officers of the same color for labor and has established a regular force of protection among them, paying from twenty five cents a day and one ration for a full day's labor's wages White soldiers hereafter are to handle muskets only

NEW YORK, May 7th —A letter from Yorktown dated May 6th says General Sedgwick's division embarked this morning and will join Franklin's division at West Point Two divisions march thence to a place called New Kent on the road between Williamsburg and Richmond thus cutting off the rebel retreat West Point is the head of navigation on York river Now—at nine o'clock in the morning—we hear no heavy firing, from which we infer that the rebels withdrew during the night, or else the troops are awaiting the arrival of Franklin's and Sedgwick's divisions at the rear If the enemy remain where they are they will find themselves between two very formidable armies and compelled to cut their way through or surrender at discretion I am inclined to think that they will cross Chickahominy river and destroy the bridge and ferry so as to prevent pursuit This seems to be the only way in which they can save any portion of their army It is barely possible that we may have hard fighting yet but the general opinion is that the enemy will escape in the way indicated and McClellan will advance on Richmond without meeting any very formidable opposition

FORTRESS MONROE, May 7th —President Lincoln arrived here this morning This afternoon he visited Newport News to have a clear view of the Merrimac, which has been lying off Craney Island all the afternoon for the purpose, no doubt, of preventing our gunboats from running up the James river

YORKTOWN, May 7 —The latest intelligence from the field of battle says McClellan came up with the rebels eight miles beyond Williamsburg. After a severe skirmish with the rear guard he put them to flight across the Chickahominy A large additional number of deserters who had nothing to eat for forty eight hours but a few hard biscuits, when brought in fell down exhausted

Heavy cannonading was heard at an early hour this morning by the boats coming down the river The result is not known There is no doubt that the whole rebel army is in a state of disorganization under the pursuit of McClellan and fleeing with great precipitation, without any intention of making a stand anywhere Unless they can reach Richmond by boats via James river, they will certainly be intercepted by forces landed at West Point Not less than fifty steamers are engaged in transporting the balance of the army to that point

On Monday last the enemy took a Pennsylvania battery having first killed all the horses The battery had but a small infantry support, who were overpowered and compelled to surrender Before the close of the day this battery, with one of the enemy's was recaptured

We have just learned that the enemy have destroyed all the bridges across the Chickahominy McClellan is resting his arms this side of the river The Chickahominy runs parallel with the James river into which it flows

WASHINGTON, May 8 —In the Senate a resolution impeaching Judge Humphreys of Tennessee was received from the House and referred to a Select Committee

The following bill passed Establishing a port of entry at Hilton Head limiting the number of Major Generals to thirty and Brigadier Generals to two hundred [illegible] Territorial Government for Arizona

NEW YORK, May 8 —The following additional news by the Australasian has been received

The Paris Patrie affirms that two English frigates would leave on the [illegible] of April for Bermuda with ordnance and ammunition It asserts that England is about to [illegible] the [illegible]

From Austria we learn that the first iron [illegible] frigate [illegible] in June [illegible] others are building

Less than a month ago the Richmond Whig said "Southern soil is such a better odds [illegible] Yankees [illegible] twenty times the number of the latter" We are a little curious to know what it can say about the battle of Pea Ridge and Newbern.

Recently there was at North Troy, Vt a snow drift twenty feet deep, through which farmers had to tunnel to let their teams pass

Two inches of snow fell in Philadelphia on the night of April 30th

Coughs The sudden changes of our climate are sources of Pulmonary, Bronchial and Asthmatic Affections. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges, let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. Public Speakers and Singers will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. See advertisement.

Public Speaking!

Hon. A. C. GIBBS and Gen'l J. F. MILLER, opposing [illegible] for Governor, will address the citizens of Multnomah county AT THE THEATER in Portland on SATURDAY, the 19th inst at [illegible] P. M.

ELISHA APPLEGATE and other prominent speakers will address the meeting.

THE RIVERS.—From passengers by the Dalles boat last night, we learn that the Columbia at that place had been at a stand for several hours previous to the boat's leaving. The Willamette had risen seven inches during the twenty-four hours previous to half past [illegible] last night.

RUNAWAY.—A horse stampeded on Front [illegible] yesterday afternoon, very much frightening women and children who happened to [illegible] the street. Persons should not let their [illegible] stand unhitched.

SAILED.—The steamer Pacific sailed yesterday morning at nine o'clock for San Francisco. She [illegible] very little freight, and only about [illegible],000 in gold dust.

[illegible] DEPARTMENT.—We call attention to the advertisement of the Superintendent of [illegible] Affairs, in regard to the disposition of [illegible] claims against the Department.

KILLED.—Mr. Samuel Eppley was killed by the fall of a tree while engaged in cutting [illegible] timber near Astoria, on Tuesday last.

[illegible] TO VANCOUVER.—Companies B and [illegible] Oregon Cavalry, left for Vancouver yesterday afternoon on the steamer Mountain Buck.

[illegible]—Some of No. 2's boys had a very [illegible] little dance last night at their engine [illegible]. Quite a number of ladies were out.

[illegible]—The steamer Oregon was due last [illegible].

[illegible] Williams will speak at the Theatre [illegible] evening, at 8 o'clock.

[illegible] democratic county convention meets at [illegible] house to-day.

[illegible] the speaking at the Theatre this evening.

[illegible] Oregon was advertised to sail for this [illegible] on the 18th instant.

[illegible] Morton, an employee at the Mint, [illegible] Francisco, was shot by Charles L. [illegible], on the 7th, in a violent discussion [illegible] national affairs. The Bulletin says "Morton [illegible] been a resident of San Francisco, for [illegible] a few months, and has a widow residing [illegible]. He was, we understand, a [illegible] of considerable prominence and [illegible] note in Oregon, whence he emigrated [illegible] since. He was a member of the [illegible] Legislature in 1860, and although [illegible] a Democrat, was one of those who [illegible] enough to forget, for the time [illegible] party ties and united with others [illegible] fully voting for Col. Baker, the Re[illegible] candidate for the United States Sen[illegible] [illegible] Brittain was a secessionist and a [illegible] Louisiana.

[illegible] FOR VANCOUVER ISLAND.—A num[illegible] [illegible] ladies and gentlemen in London [illegible] a society with the object in [illegible] sending out to British Columbia a full [illegible] of females for wives, for those who [illegible]. At last advices almost enough funds [illegible] collected to send the first cargo.

[illegible] band of twelve or fourteen [illegible] to the Farralone Islands, off San [illegible] harbor, lately, and drove off the [illegible] the Farralone Egg Company, which [illegible] own the islands, or the right to [illegible] eggs thereon. The U. S. rev[illegible] cutter Shubrick has gone to look after [illegible] and it is said the company will be re[illegible].

[illegible] AGENT WATROUS.—The Washing[illegible] correspondent of the Bulletin, says Postal [illegible] Watrous expected to return to Califor[illegible] by steamer of the 21st of April. Here[illegible] Watrous will audit all accounts for pos[illegible] [illegible] on the Pacific Coast, and furnish [illegible] with stamps and blanks. To aid [illegible] performing the labor and to render [illegible] convenient his necessary absence on in[illegible] tours, a clerk is to be assigned [illegible] the city postoffice. Mr. Watrous, [illegible] report on the Overland Mail route [illegible], has indicated several points in [illegible] the service may readily improved and [illegible] savings of time and expense may [illegible].

The following is the result of the vote for [illegible] in Connecticut. Wm. A. Buckingham, Republican 38,862; James C. Loomis, [illegible], 30,587. Republican majority 8,275. The Legislature will stand as follows: Republicans (Senate) 21, (House,) 177; Democrats (House) 50.

The bill to provide for the construction of an iron-clad war steamer to guard the harbor of San Francisco has passed the California Legislature, and will undoubtedly become a law.

The New York Freeman's Journal is, by order of the Post Office Department re-admitted to the mails.

A Washington dispatch says Gov. Sprague [illegible] elected to the Senate. The Governor [illegible] his regiment at Yorktown.

Leutze's $20,000 picture—ordered by the Government, and to be placed, not in the rotunda of the Capitol, as generally reported, but in the south-west staircase—has for its title, "Westward the Star of Empire takes its way." It represents an emigrant train reaching the summit of one of the Rocky Mountain passes just at sunset, and the emigrants rushing forward to get the first glimpse of the broad plains which lie below, with rivers gleaming under a golden sky, and winding away into the haze that lies on the horizon. In the foreground a group of pioneers on horseback urge their horses forward to get the sight of their promised land, and just behind comes one of the wagons with a little family, an invalid mother, whose pale face is lifted to catch a breeze from the Pacific, and in whose lap lies a frolicsome child. Behind comes a long train of wagons out of the shadows of the night gathering in the valley behind. Another group, more restless, have climbed a pinnacle of rocks to get a clearer view and wave their hats to the setting sun. At the right is a snowy peak, the gold of the sunlit snow barred by cool blue shadows. All behind them is gloom where the mists are gathering, and all before them a sunny dream. In the border, which will take the place of a frame, are set smaller designs; in the left hand upper corner, the Wise Men of the East following the star of Christ; at the right, Hercules cleaving the gates of the Mediterranean; at the left again, below, is the expedition for the golden fleece, Moses calling the Red Sea upon the host of Pharaoh, the raven bearing food, and on the right the spies returning from Canaan, Columbus with his globe, and the dove returning with the olive leaf. At the bottom is a view of the golden gate, and in an oval at the left a portrait of Clark; at the right, one of Boone—the whole to be connected by arabesques, introducing the flora and fauna of the West. The picture is to be painted in the water glass process, one which, while it has the advantage of fresco in being made a part of the wall, gives all the facility of water color painting. It is that adopted by Kaulback in the new museum at Berlin, and has stood twenty years' severe test. Mr. Leutze is now working on the cartoon for his picture, having a room in the Capitol as a studio.

Success makes Enemies.

They who are eminently successful in business, or who attain even to a fair prospect of success, in any pursuit, must expect to make enemies. So prone to selfishness, to petty jealousy and sordid envy, is poor human nature, that whoever becomes distinguished is sure to be a mark for the malicious spite of those who, not deserving success themselves, are galled by the merited triumph of the more worthy. Moreover, the opposition which originates in such despicable motives, is sure to be of the most unscrupulous character, hesitating at no iniquity, descending to the shabbiest littleness. Opposition, if it be honest and manly, is not in itself undesirable. It is the whetstone by which a highly tempered nature is polished and sharpened; and the competitor in life's struggle who is of the true metal, deprecates not opposition of such a character, but rather rejoices in it, as the brave warrior exults in a foeman worthy of his steel. It is only injustice or meanness which wounds; and it is that which the successful must meet, proportioned in bitterness, oftentimes, to the measure of success which excites it. If man thus requires a heart of steel to breast the poisoned shafts which shall be shot at him, alas for the woman who is compelled to venture from the cover of private life, if she have talents sufficient to command success! The world is ungenerous and unjust to her sex, and the cowardly are ever eager to persecute the more weak and defenceless. If man be believed, he is not condemned without some sort of trial; but in the case of woman, accusation, from however low a source, is too apt to be conviction. Shall none then strive to rise? Is it better to walk the beaten path and remain unknown? Great intellects and brave hearts will answer—No! The day of justice may lag, but it will surely come. The wrongs of the present shall be compensated by the impartial judgment of the future. Let petty calumniators, then, have their brief day and vent their paltry spite.

HONEST LABOR.—Labor, honest labor, is right and beautiful. Activity is the ruling element of life, and its highest relish. Luxuries and conquests are the result of labor—we can imagine nothing without it. The noblest man of earth is he who puts his hands cheerfully and proudly to honest labor. Labor is a business and ordinance of God. Suspend labor, and where is the glory and the pomp of earth—the fruits of the fields, and palaces and fashionings of matter for which men strive? Let the labor scoffer look around him, look at himself, and learn what are the trophies of toil. From the crown of the head to the sole of his foot, unless he is a cannibal, made as a beast, he is the debtor and slave of toil. The labor which he scorned has tricked him into the stature and appearance of man.—Where gets he his garments and his equipage? Let the labor answer. Labor makes music in the mine, in the furrow, and at the forge.

NOT MAKING, BUT SAVING.—It is not the money that a man earns, but the money that he saves, which enriches him. Anybody may acquire wealth who will remember to act upon this principle. The facility with which money can be gained by industry in this country, is very great when compared to the facilities for earning it, generally, abroad; but we are an extravagant people, and we expend our earnings with a commensurate prodigality. Those who do not, but practice self-restraint and a careful economy, invariably grow rich. They cannot well avoid it. Money makes money. The first thousand dollars soon creates more thousands; and, if you will only compute it, you will be surprised to discover how soon you will have expended that thousand upon purchases by no means indispensable to your comfort or your happiness.

SEWING MACHINES

ARE UNEQUALED BY ANY FOR

BEAUTY AND SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION

—AND—

Efficiency in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE

SHOULD BE WELL MADE, simple in its construction, and easily kept in order. It should make a TIGHT LOCK STITCH alike on both sides of the material, and should sew any and all materials that can be sewed.

It should be able to use cotton thread or silk directly from the spool, and to sew from coarse to fine and from thick to thin, with rapidity, and without changing the tension. It should also be able to make the tension greater or less, on both the under and upper threads, and with uniformity, and should have a straight needle, curved ones being liable to break.

The needle should have perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work.

It should be able to bind with a binder, hem with a hemmer, should stitch, fell, run and gather, and should be always ready to work.

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work, and of using different colored thread or silk, above or below, to correspond with any two colors of cloth to be united.

It should be able to make a long or short stitch, and to fasten off the seam, and commence sewing tightly at the first stitch, and to run easily, and make but little noise.

It should have a wheel feed; no others are in constant contact with the work.

It should not be liable to get out of order, neither should it require a screw driver or wrench to set the needle.

It should not be liable to oil the operator's dress.

It should not form a ridge on the under side, a ravel.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S

Private Medical & Surgical Institute,

SACRAMENTO STREET, BELOW MONTGOMERY,

Opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office, San Francisco.

ESTABLISHED IN 1854 FOR THE PERMANENT cure of all Chronic and Private Diseases, and the SUPPRESSION OF QUACKERY. Attending and Resident Physician L. J. CZAPKAY, M. D., Late in the Hungarian Revolutionary War, Chief Physician to the 20th Regiment of Honveds, Chief Surgeon to the Military Hospital of Pesth, Hungary, the late Lecturer on Diseases of the Genito Urinary Organs and Diseases of Women and Children, and Honorary Member of the Philadelphia College of Medicine.

☞ Particular attention paid to the treatment of diseases peculiar to Women and Children.

Office Hours—From 9 A. M. to 8 P. M.

☞ Communications strictly confidential. Permanent cure guaranteed, or no pay. Consultations by letter or otherwise FREE.

Address DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco.

Of all diseases, the first great cause
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws.

To the Afflicted.

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret diseases, Self Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Strictures, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision, with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Diseases, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians, and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines prescribed are pleasant without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness and free from mercury or [illegible]. During fifteen years of practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands, who in the last stages of the above-mentioned diseases had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted, who may place themselves under my care, a speedy and permanent cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected—a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the disease, but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury, which with the disease hastens the sufferer into a [illegible] of consumption. But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children, who are born with feeble constitutions, and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter, ulcers, eruptions and other affections of the skin, eyes, throat and lungs, entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering, and consigning them to an early grave.

Self abuse is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system—drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering, down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of self-abuse that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices my patients can be restored to robust vigorous health.

Irregularities and all diseases of males and females treated on principles established by fifteen years of practice, and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures.— Medicines with full directions sent to any part of the State, Oregon and Washington Territory, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter.

All letters strictly confidential. Address DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, Medical Institute, Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s Office, San Francisco.

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief.

Below we publish certificates of those who suffered in the pangs of disease, who having recovered their former health, are impelled by gratitude to make known their cases and remedial agent, and their statements are authenticated by a Notary Public. The documents themselves [illegible] command their credibility, and we commend their perusal to the attention of all afflicted.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco—Sir: I [illegible] last of your medicine and do not think I shall need more, as I feel very well, except that I have not got my strength yet, but soon will with the [illegible]. It is just three weeks, you may recollect, since I [illegible] your institute, with my constitution, as I [illegible] entirely, and never thought you would be able to [illegible] perfectly, but thought you might be able to [illegible] to ease the pain in my back and head, and [illegible] nerves, so that I would not get excited and [illegible] rything. Now that you know what I [illegible] judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery [illegible] symptoms, and the removal of those sores and [illegible] my skin and the ulcers from my throat, and the [illegible] page of those emissions which you said were [illegible] cause of my sickness. I can hardly tell you which is the greatest, my joy or my surprise, for except [illegible] get my strength, I feel as well as any man can feel.

Enclosed I send you twenty dollars over your [illegible] think myself cheaply cured. If you think anybody [illegible] benefited you may put this letter in the newspapers. [illegible] gratefully yours, THOMAS [illegible]

Thankfulness is the incentive [illegible]

CERTIFICATE.—Prompted by an honest desire of [illegible] I wish to lay before the public a case which [illegible] mendation not only as an act of scientific skill, [illegible] humanity also. About two years ago, I [illegible] causes unknown to me was seized with a fit of [illegible] which owing to my inability to meet the [illegible] quent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the [illegible] agement which I met with on attempting it, soon became such (I was then led to believe) as to defy the skill of [illegible] physician. I was frequently while in pursuit of [illegible] thrown down to the ground without the slightest [illegible] and although insensible to the agonies, I yet [illegible] miseries of my life and soon learned to look [illegible] would render assistance or shelter me from [illegible] mies who sought to prolong the existence of my [illegible]. While in this state and having, previous to my [illegible] tasted the sweets of life, I once more was induced [illegible] seeking aid of a physician, and, by recommendation [illegible] upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him of my dis[illegible] and my inability to reward him for his services, [illegible] however, he at once undertook my case, and with the blessing of God I was once more restored to perfect health. Unable to reward him for the boon which [illegible] present, and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I [illegible] due to myself and the afflicted to make the case public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed.
